

Application Outsourcing

Veon prides itself as being pioneers in off shoring partners for its customers across the globe.

Veon core team has over 15 years experience in off shoring and delivering complex projects with challenging timelines. While outsourcing may itself not be new, open source consulting outsourcing is.

Here are the reasons why we feel we make the best open source outsourcing partners for you..

- Proven People and Technology - Our in-depth understanding of mature open-source applications help you realize the best that they have to offer. We ensure that you get maximum benefit by getting an optimum solution for your business needs.
- Delivery Methodology - We strongly believe that technology understanding must be supported by matured processes to make meet project objectives. Our methodology has multiple sign-offs in the project life cycle to ensure the business requirements are captured. Rigorous change management helps in honoring project timelines and budget.
- Flexible engagement Models -We provide you a host of commercial models to engage with us apart from conventional ones - fixed price and time and material. Contact us with your requirements for further information.
- Business Understanding - We make our best effort to understand your business requirements and criticality / inherent inter-dependencies amongst them. The usual feedback from our clients that we cherish is "consultants at Veon have the common sense approach to our requirements which helps make our lives so much easier".
